CREAM OF NEWS.

ST YOURSELVES BY READING WHAT HAS HAPPENED.

Record of Fights—Fire and Crime—Happened at Trenton—Burial at Nashville—Fatal Accident at Gray—Boy shot at Oak Grove, and Other Items too numerous to mention.

Highway Robbery in Princeton

A daring hold-up and highway robbery occurred in the city Sunday night. Clark Hammond, a young man from Tennessee, being shot and robbed by three negroes.

Hammond got off the midnight train and started to walk out to the home of his father, John Hammond, in the country. He had just left Green street and was turning into the Madison road when the three men pounced upon him. Two of them held him while the third went through his pockets. They took his pocketbook and left everything else. When they had taken the money out, they threw the book at him and told him to go off and fill it again and they would help themselves if they caught him out after night. Hammond did not know the negroes and was so badly frightened that he could not describe them. When they seized him they made him believe they were going to kill him and began cutting at him with their knives. His clothing was cut in several places, but his skin was not touched, and it is believed the men only wished to frighten him into silence. They got $5 in bills and some small change, leaving him without a cent—Banner.

Clardy's Majority 5,022.

The County of State has published the following as the official vote of the Second district in the congressional election:

	Clardy	Schroe	Turner	Holmes
Christian	2,523	2,008	278	228
Methodist	2,581	1,875	147	95
Baptist	729	917	158	80
Presbyterian	1,792	1,052	1,094	101
Episcopal	1,811	1,800	400	52
Other	121	102	80	80
Total	12,455	10,835	1,094	562

Clardy's plurality 5,022.

The vote accredited to Schroe in Christian county is 100 greater than he received. His official vote in this county as given out by the county clerk, after being canvassed, and which was published by precincts, was 2,888. There was an error of 100 in addition which was pointed out by the members of the board after the certificate had been sent. As this error increases Schroe's vote in this county and decreases Dr. Clardy's plurality in the district to that extent, we trust that the board of canvassers, now that their attention is again called to the matter, will send a corrected certificate to Frankfort, in order that Dr. Clardy may be given credit for his actual plurality, which is 5,002 votes.

Henry Delaney's Father.

The second wife of Henry Delaney, of Sturgis, Ky., the principal in the noted Oliver-Delaney tragedy, gave birth to a baby last week. Delaney was only married two or three months ago. His wife is Miss Fannie Tate, sister of one of the young men who participated with him in the tragedy of April 1893, and the girl to whom it is said he was engaged when he was forced to marry Abbie Oliver.

Two Black Sheep

Rev. John H. Bays, of Gio county, is on trial at Paducah charged with forging a pension affidavit. He is a member of the Christian church. Rev. J. C. Hoos, formerly pastor of the Broadway Methodist church at Paducah, but later of Jena, Tenn., was Saturday expelled from the ministry, charged with criminal conduct with one of the women of his flock.

Brooks Case Affirmed.

The case of R. K. Brooks, the Hopkins county murderer, was affirmed in the court of appeals last week. Brooks killed J. G. Bryant in Oct. 1893, and the murder caused such indignation that it was necessary to remove him to the jail of this county to avoid mob violence. He will serve a life sentence.

Sunday Shaving Agency

Judge Thompson, of Louisville, has decided that the act of the last legislation closing barber-shops on Sunday was unconstitutional, under section 50 of the constitution. The Louisville barbers will resume Sunday shaving.

BAGGED TWO OF THEM.

A Rose Who Might have Smelled as Sweet by Some Other Name.

TRENTON, Nov. 17.—On last Thursday Capt. Stokes, Adj. Adams, Tom Rose and John Greenfield left Jemp's Grove, near Fairview, for the "Big Pond," 5 miles south of Trenton, for a few days fishing and hunting, taking a jug of "bug juice" to use in case of snake-bites. Finding no game, Capt. Stokes and Adams left for Clarksville, after starting Rose and Greenfield home with dogs and guns. Both of them were under the influence of liquor. At several places on the way from camp they shot and killed chickens and turkeys. At Mrs. Rose Dickinson's they again started to shooting fowls, when her sons, Sam and Jesse, remonstrated. They then turned their guns on them and with oaths threatened to shoot them. The Dickinsons got their horse and one gun and started to Trenton to have them arrested, but encountered Rose and Greenfield standing in the road, when they renewed their cursing and threats of shooting. The Dickinsons took it all, only stating that they would have them arrested at Trenton. At this young Rose, who is about 23 years old, and has been in the penitentiary for killing his cousin, raised his gun and said to the Dickinsons boys, who were on their horses about 15 feet away, "I'll fix you," and pulled the trigger. The gun snapped and Sam Dickinson fired his gun at Rose, both barrels being loaded with bird shot, which struck both Rose and Greenfield. Both were painfully wounded about their faces, but not fatally hurt. They drove out in the woods to a pond, unloaded the fowls and after washing their faces pursued the Dickinsons to Trenton. The Marshal summoned a posse and waited, but they turned and went around the town and a few miles out in the country and sent back for a Doctor, both being exhausted from loss of blood. Rose's gun is held until his trial comes off.

DEATH WAS A RELIEF.

Horrible Fate of a Small Child near Gray.

Elizabeth Reid, the 3-year-old daughter of Matt Reid, of near Gray, died Saturday evening from burns received on the morning of the 6th inst. The child's mother had left it alone standing by the fire while she went to a pond near by for a bucket of water. She heard screams and returning to the house found the child enveloped in flames and horribly burned all over its body. The fire was extinguished and a physician summoned, but nothing could be done to relieve the suffering to any great extent and the unfortunate child lingered in great agony until death came to its relief as above stated.

Louis Land's Heavy Sentence.

The trial of Louis Land, one of the Delaney murderers in Union county, was concluded at Morganfield Saturday, and the prisoner was given a sentence of 21 years. Henry Delaney, the principal, who gave a continuance on account of his wife's confinement last week, will likely be put on trial this week and will be lucky if he escapes with his neck. There is absolutely no sympathy for this young Lotario, who married a second wife after ruining her, before he had been tried for the charge of killing his first wife and unborn babe.

Broke Her Leg in Three Places.

Mrs. A. G. Elgin, of the Vaughn's Chapel neighborhood, fell down an outdoor stairway Saturday and broke one of her legs in three places. Dr. Lackey was called and found the bone so badly shattered that amputation was necessary. The leg was taken off below the knee Sunday and the lady was reported as doing well at last accounts.

Minister Preaches a Cleave.

Bishop Dudley preached two sermons at the Episcopal church Sunday. The following new members were confirmed at the morning service: Dr. and Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Schmitt, Miss Bachman, Mrs. Ed Curtis, Mr. T. W. Moore, Mr. John Sturley and Miss Elsie Nelson.

Fire at Nashville.

A small fire occurred in a servant's house on the premises of J. J. Montgomery, manager of the Edjiford penitentiary, and a negro child was burned to death, Thursday night.

TWO MADE ONE.

HARRY WARE AND MISS MARY PATTIN LOPE.

A Popular Young Pair Run Off and Marry—Parental Objections The Cause—Happened Yesterday and Forgiven.

It has been sometime since Hopkinsville was stirred up by an elopement in the highest social circle, and when an event of that kind occurred Saturday evening it created quite a little sensation. Mr. Harry Ware and Miss Mary Pattin, took the 6:13 train for Clarksville, meeting after they had boarded the train, and upon arriving in Clarksville were married at 10 o'clock the same evening, at the home of Mr. B. F. McKee. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. Craig, of the Episcopal church. Mr. and Mrs. Ware remained in Clarksville until yesterday morning, returning on the 9:52 train.

Mr. Ware is a member of the firm of Ware & Owsley and is one of the most prominent and popular young merchants in the city. His bride is the only daughter of Mr. Richard Pattin and is a young lady of unusual brightness of mind, remarkable beauty and the highest accomplishments. She graduated from Bethel Female College last year with high honors and has been teaching since September in the same institution. She is quite young and her youth caused her parents to oppose the marriage. However, since the young couple have returned home they have been forgiven and will reside for the present at Mr. Pattin's.

THE KENTUCKIAN in common with their many friends extends the usual congratulations.

BIG FIRE NEAR GRACEY.

A Sunday Blaze Destroyed a Thousand Dollars Worth of Property.

Sunday morning the large stable belonging to Mrs. Nannie F. Cox, of near Gracely, caught on fire and was reduced to ashes in a few minutes. The building contained about 150 barrels of corn, a lot of hay, a wagon, carriage, and lot of harness, all of which was destroyed. The supposition is that the building caught from the ashes of Mr. Albert Cox's pipe, as he had been smoking just before entering the stable, and had driven some distance away before he discovered the flames. Mrs. Cox's loss will reach thousands of dollars or more. She had no insurance, either on the building or its contents.

Stock Mounted Alive.

The stable of Mr. Geo. Ogil, living a few miles east of Guthrie, was burned last Thursday night. A lot of hay, corn, and harness was also consumed, together with three head of valuable horses, which were literally roasted alive. Mr. Ogil's loss will reach $1,500, and he had no insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark from the dwelling, which was situated a short distance from the stable.

Bird Hunter Shot his Son.

Mr. John Bohannon, a farmer living near Oak Grove, accidentally shot his 7-year-old son Friday, while out bird hunting. Mr. Bohannon fired at a bird and one of the shot struck some hard substance, and glancing struck his little son in the eye. The wound, although painful will not result seriously, as the ball of the eye was not punctured.

Fined For Fighting.

John Carter was tried at Lafayette Saturday, for cutting Wm. Ransom's, a few days before, and fined $10 and costs. Ransom was also fined $5, both charges having been reduced to a breach of the peace. Tom Syper, co., who was present when the two men fought, and who was charged with participating in the row, was acquitted. Attorney C. H. Bush, of this city, attended the trial and defended Carter.

Missed Burial.

The Cockrell home at Nortonville was entered by burglars Thursday night. They failed to secure anything of value, and after taking a lot of provisions left without disclosing their identity. This is the second burglary committed in Nortonville in the past few days. J. M. Mills' grocery having been entered a few nights before.

Alliance Meeting To-day.

The State Alliance will hold its annual meeting in this city to-day.

A DELAYED LETTER.

Birthday Celebration in Honor of a Venerable Citizen.

HOWLER, Ky., Nov. 2.—In this age of push and progress, when competition frequently induces almost superhuman effort, man, like an engine that is constantly run with full head of steam, soon wears out and few in deed live to reach the patriarchal period of four scores.

Last Monday marked the 80th birthday of the oldest man in this community, Esq. John B. White, of Garrettsburg, and as an evidence of their love and reverence, his children had prepared to celebrate the day in a manner befitting the importance of the event.

On that beautiful Autumn day, beneath the hospitable roof of this good old man and estimable wife, were assembled all of his children and grandchildren, except one little grandson, together with many of their near neighbors, who came with glad hearts to attest their appreciation of so worthy a life and to partake of a most bountiful and sumptuous birthday dinner. Truly may it be said that the celebration was a success; the table was abundantly spread with almost everything to satisfy the appetites of the hungry, or delight the taste of the epicure; at the festal board presided with becoming dignity, Esq. White and his wife, while surrounding them were happy faces of their immediate descendants as follows:

J. H. Barnes and wife; N. B. Dixon, wife and two children; John W. Terrell, wife and six children; W. R. Sargent, wife and three children; M. K. White, wife and two children, as well as many neighbors and friends, making the number present about 100. The table was set with each other in effort to make the hours pass pleasantly and rendering the occasion one long to be remembered by every individual there. It affords the writer pleasure to bear testimony to the fact that no one else stands higher in this community or commands a greater share of trust and respect than do Esq. John B. White and his wife, Mrs. Eliza J. White, who has lived, as an upright, honorable man, respected and esteemed by his neighbors, and faithful in all the duties of life.

These good old people were both born in Louisa Co., Va., and moved to Kentucky in early life. They were married in 1840 and in the same year settled in Garrettsburg, where they have continued to live since then. During a continuous residence of nearly 60 years in the neighborhood, Esq. White has necessarily witnessed many changes; the most of his early friends and neighbors have since joined the silent throng; around him has sprung up a new generation; he has lived to raise a large family to perpetuate his memory and now as he quietly passes down the shady side of life accompanied by his noble wife, who has been his faithful and loving friend and helpmate for 54 long years, he can look back upon the past without regret; he has lived a life of true nobility and Christianity. Everybody is his friend and in his declining years may he be happy in the love of his family and neighbors in the earnest, sincere wish of

Leaving of Fire Wheels.
The enormous amount of energy stored in a revolving fly wheel is strikingly shown when it flies in pieces, as one did in the Manville mills, at Manville, R. I., on the morning of the 15th inst. In bursting the wheel destroyed two other wheels of the same size, 10 feet in diameter and a 10-inch fly wheel. The break will cause a shut down of the mills for nearly a month for repairs, and the damage amounts to $15,000. The wheels were broken off of nearly to the hubs and immense pieces were hurled—distances through the roof and walls of the engine room. Large pulleys and other machinery above the engine room were smashed and twisted into a mass of wreckage. Fortunately no one was injured.

Outing Damper.

Mrs. Baxter (on an outing)—Oh, I feel like going quick! Little Jacob has fallen ill.

Mr. Baxter—Oh, miss goodness gracious! My dot-tre-tre-out out!

Ahead of Society.

Little Miss D'AVONCO—My mamma is as particular 'bout being in good form that she has learned to eat with her fork in her left hand without spilling a bit.

Reg—What? That's awful! There's a girl who can't eat with her fork in her left hand, and an' a whole lot of other things.

OUT OFF HIS ARM.

BLOODY COMBAT WITH AXES IN TODD COUNTY.

Two Todd county farmers fall out and fight. One is badly hurt.

On the farm of Dr. Lester, just south of Trenton, Saturday morning White Holt and James Reed became involved in a difficulty over the ownership of an axe. Hot words passed when Holt threw the axe at Reed twice, but the latter dodged, and the deadly weapon failed to strike him. At this juncture Reed got possession of the axe and threw it at Holt, striking him on the arm, nearly severing it from the body. Dr. Lester was immediately called and dressed the wound, but gave it as his opinion that it would prove fatal. No arrests have been made. It is understood that Reed has armed himself, barred the doors and sent word to the officers that he would die before he would be taken, and if this be true, more will likely be more blood spilt over the matter, as Todd county officers generally get "their men" when they go after them.

"UNCLE TOMMY" OWEN.

Death of a Venerable Citizen Near Sinking Fork.

Mr. T. T. Owen, one of the oldest citizens of the county, died last Friday, at his home west of this city. His funeral services were held the following day by Rev. J. U. Spurlin and the body was interred in the family burying ground near Sinking Fork.

Thomas Tonia Owen was born in Halifax county, Va., Feb. 29, 1808, and though more than 86 years had rolled over his head, he had only seen 21 birthdays as the months go. This was due to the fact that he was born on the odd day in a leap year. He was the second of sixteen children, eleven sons and five daughters. Mr. Owen married Miss Mary Ann Foulkes in Virginia and they came to this county in 1852. Four sons and four daughters were born to them.

Mr. Owen had lived for 42 years in the Sinking Fork neighborhood and accumulated about his considerable property. He was a member of the Baptist church and a staunch friend of prohibition.

Almost up to the time of his death he was hale and hearty and in the full possession of his faculties. He died as he had lived, as an upright, honorable man, respected and esteemed by his neighbors, and faithful in all the duties of life.

STORED HIS GAME.

An Indian Hunter Who Placed Fire Deer in His Cold Storage Vault.

A gentleman who was at work at the Howard slate quarry in Williamette, or "No. 8," as it was then called, twenty years ago, says deer were as plenty then in the woods north of Sebecake as any one could ask for. The slate company had a large number of men employed and boarded them in camp, the same as lumbermen board their crews in the woods. To keep the camps supplied with fish and meat, a hunter was employed every day. The supply never ran short, but some of his methods were peculiar. He evidently kept fish on call in the neighborhood. On several occasions, the gentleman says, company came in from Bangor unexpectedly late in the evening. But they had only to say trout to the hunter and he would start off into the woods to return in fifteen minutes with a handsome string of fish, apparently just taken from the water.

He would bring a deer in the winter in much the same way. His manner of doing this the gentleman explains, for he went with him once and learned the secret. He took the deer sled out to bring in game, and the workman went along to help haul it. They did not go very far into the forest, when they came to a lot of evergreen boughs heaped upon the snow. Here Stone stopped. Lifting the boughs, he tipped the pile over, and the looker on, who was used to the work, was scared nearly out of his senses when a big black bounded up out of the hole and fell flat on his side. His feet were withered and he could not stand. Stone had caught him, tethered him and buried him alive under the brush and snow against future emergencies. This was his system of cold storage.

Dr. James Bowman Young, editor of the Central Christian Advocate, has written a book on what he saw as a boy in the army. Dr. Young tells the story of his life under the pressure of narrating the adventure of a certain fictitious person, Jack Sanderson by name, who was too young to enlist in 1861, but who went off to the battlefield with his uncle, who was an officer in the Union army. While with his uncle Dr. Young witnessed many thrilling episodes which did not frighten him, but in the contrary, were spun which goodled him to enlist in a Pennsylvania regiment before he was 18 years old, the required age for enlistment. He was sent to the front with his uncle, who was with him in the campaign of the war, and he had an officer's commission when he returned to his home.

"AN UNPARALLELED OFFER."

A Magnificent Book Can be Secured by Our People—Absolutely Free.

THE KENTUCKIAN takes pleasure in announcing to the people of a Christian country that they can secure a copy of "The Golden Gems of Life" or "Gathered Jewels for the Home Circle" at absolutely no cost whatever. The Gems comprise a series of essays on the different passions of the human heart, on the successive periods of human life, on the various graces of the Christian religion, and on many allied topics, all of which are highly elevating and helpful in character and calculated to bring much good into every home where the book may find entrance. It is refreshing to recommend and encourage the circulation of a book of the rare merit of "The Golden Gems of Life." It has the hearty endorsement of the pulpit, press and people and an examination of its contents will prove the commendations to be fully deserved.

The most reliable merchants of Hopkinsville have arranged with the publishers of the "Gems" to place a copy of the book in every home at their expense. They hope by this means to secure enough new trade to justify the great expense of the enterprise. The merchants actually furnish the money to pay for the books. Representatives of the merchants will call on the people during the next few days and explain the plan upon which the book is furnished to the people, and we trust our people will take advantage of the liberal offer made by the merchants of our city. The advertisement on the tenth page of this paper further elucidates the particulars of the enterprise and contains the names of the firms. A few reliable, intelligent men can secure employment as solicitors, by addressing Central Publishing House, Cincinnati, Ohio, at once.

MATRIMONIAL.

DONNELLY-WILSON.—Mr. L. E. Donnelly, of near Clarksville, and Miss Susie, daughter of Esq. R. A. Wilson, of Peacher's Mill, were married last Thursday, Dr. T. Simpson McCall, of this city, officiating.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Seniore Blankenship to Alice Barker.

COLORED.

Sam Popper to Bobbie Hopson. Mack Johnson to Roxey Stites. John Water to Martha Ledford. Frank Robinson to Maggie Smith. Henry Galston to Eliza McKee.

Blanche Willis Howard.

Blanche Willis Howard has written in all nine books since she stepped before the public as a story maker, some of them strong and more elaborate than her first, but none probably quite so affectionately welcomed and delightfully read as that same initial one—"One Summer." She wrote it to earn money to go abroad, and the only reason her American readers are sorry they bought it so generously is that she did not go abroad on the receipts and has staid there pretty much all the time since. She has lived for years at Stuttgart, where she edits a magazine, writes books, and, being now a married woman, BLANCHE HOWARD, conducts the education of several pupils at her home. As she was anxious to go hunting, he fussed about for several days and at last fell to praying fervently. "Snow, Lord send snow! Send snow," was the burden of his supplication. That very night the storm struck a regular blizzard, and before it was over the snow lay three feet deep everywhere. As it was so light as feathers, it was so better for snowshoeing than when there was more, and the disgruntled hunter looked out of doors ruefully. "I had known the blizzard was coming," he said, "but I was ashamed in my own eyes, I wouldn't have prayed for more than a feather's worth."—Lafayette Journal.

Prices in Prayers.

A gentleman in Pileantia county who likes a job and has a high purpose of making light of serious things, tells a story of an odd character in his neighborhood who mixed up eccentricity with the most refined propriety, and very much to the surprise of the community after a most singular fashion. One fall, when the snow was too thin for snowshoeing, the "character" got very uneasy. As he was anxious to go hunting, he fussed about for several days and at last fell to praying fervently. "Snow, Lord send snow! Send snow," was the burden of his supplication. That very night the storm struck a regular blizzard, and before it was over the snow lay three feet deep everywhere. As it was so light as feathers, it was so better for snowshoeing than when there was more, and the disgruntled hunter looked out of doors ruefully. "I had known the blizzard was coming," he said, "but I was ashamed in my own eyes, I wouldn't have prayed for more than a feather's worth."—Lafayette Journal.

Saturday, Nov. 24th we begin our Great Annual Thanksgiving Sale.

An unprecedented offering made doubly remarkable by the increased facilities of our new store and recent purchases from sacrificed manufacturers and over importers.
Great Quantities of spot cash things having been bought from Domestic manufacturers crippled by tariff shuffling.

We are steady-going merchants, going along a straight road day by day, drawing in every lot of good merchandise as low as cash will take and putting it out as fast as we can by our low and fair prices on everything to everybody alike, in order to keep a running stream of fresh, bright, new things—always greatly to our customers advantage.

We keep close to our customers interest, protecting them at every point, because, if for no other reason, it is to our business advantage so to do.

By steady sales—by far the largest in this section of the State. We are compelled to replenish daily and systematically and thus we maintain a constantly fresh, new, complete stock. It is possible for a store to outlive its value to a community—by its conceits, its ruts, its independence, its assumptions, but this store is only a child learning to do its work.

This Store is more than a store—it is an Educator.

It has certainly been the step-mother to a new order of retailing which we are glad to see adopted in some part or another by business men in Hopkinsville. There are still new ideas left, however, which are appearing from time to time in our business.

We assure protection to all buyers of everything sold under our roof.

By no possibility shall any person buying of us have it to say that he paid more than the same quality is sold elsewhere in America, but on the contrary, as often as possible the people shall buy here for less than anywhere else on the continent.

This sale will continue until SATURDAY, Dec. 1st. Let the news speak; let customers show their purchases to their neighbors; let everybody look over our house whether they think of buying or not.

Mr. Thos. P. Major, one of Clarksville's leading tobacco men, will move to Louisville to engage in the same business January 1st.

Mr. D. A. Tandy has had an offer from a fertilizer company to deliver lectures to farmers during the winter on the subject of fertilizers.

Come to this office when you want wedding invitations printed. We carry the nicest stock to be had and print them in the very best style.

W. B. Reeves, jr., has been appointed city judge of Elkton, vice Judge J. K. Perkins, who resigned to become clerk at the Elkton Hotel.

Nine students of the Bible College of Kentucky University at Lexington have been seriously ill with typhoid fever caused from drinking impure water.

A debating society at Maple Grove, in Trigg county, last Friday night tackled the subject: "Which has been worst treated, the Indian or the Negro in America?"

John Long, col., has been sentenced to hang at Brownsville February 8th for murder. His execution will be the first in Edmonson county since the war.

John Rhea, a negro who was arrested here for stealing a cow in Montgomery county, was taken to Clarksville and bound over to the criminal court, waiving examination.

C. G. Mathews, of Clarksville, who has been horse stolen by a man named Mackey, recovered his property last week. Mackey had sold the horse for $12, on Green river, and gone to some unknown locality.

The "Executive Mansion" at Frankfort was built in 1789, but prior to the recent death of Miss Susie Brown, there had never been a death in its walls, nor has there ever been a marriage or birth.

Rev. V. D. Jordan, well known in this part of the State, has resigned the pastorate of Gilead Baptist church, Hardin county, and has moved to Ocala, Fla., to permanently locate, at a salary of $1,800 a year.

Wm. Dunavan, elected police judge of Russellville last November, forgot to qualify September 1st and when he undertook to qualify this month found he had forfeited the office and could not be re-eligible thereto for two years. The council will fill the vacancy.

Dr. J. W. Long, of Madisonville, has sold out his interest in the drug firm of Long & Brasher at Crofton to Mr. J. E. Croft, and Messrs. A. C. Brasher, the other member of the firm, and Mr. Croft will conduct the business in the future in the firm name of Croft & Brasher.

The Republicans, mostly colored, had a ratification at the Court House Friday night. The white people considerably kept at home and let them have the night to howl and as a consequence nobody was killed, as was the case at a similar affair at Elizabethtown.

There is some hog cholera reported among South Christian swine.

At Owensboro Saturday night Mr. W. W. Clarke, formerly of this city, delivered an address to the Y. M. C. A. on the subject "Short Weight."

The people of Hopkinsville have a genuine treat in store to-night in the lecture at the Tabernacle by Dr. Peters. He is conceded to be one of the finest platform orators in the country and his subject is one of intense interest to every patriotic citizen.

Ex-Policeman John Ashley and Jack A. Haverin, a saloon-keeper at Owensboro, engaged in a shooting at Friday Saturday and both of them were shot and it is believed fatally wounded. During the melee, Officer Stuart was struck by a flying bullet, which was stopped by a purse in his pants pocket.

Lizzie Smith, col., who attempted to stab an officer while being arrested a few days ago on a charge of stealing a watch, was given two hours in which to leave the city. She left all right. The stolen property has not been recovered. The proof was not sufficient to convict, and besides, the court was of the opinion that the prisoner was almost an imbecile and hardly accountable for her actions.

The Manhattan (Kan) Mercury of October 18, 1894, says: "St. Perkins and his country band drew one of the largest audiences to Wareham's Opera House last night that ever assembled in that house. St. Perkins is great, every one of the performers being an artist and the music they make is superb, the orchestra is one of the finest on the road." At opera house to-night. See the parade and the concert.

Mr. J. O. Cushman shot at a corn thief, who was about to enter his corn crib one night last week. The fellow dropped his sack and left the premises in double-quick time, yelling at every jump. Mr. Cushman is of the opinion that he shot at the thief at the moment he shot at pretty much as he could get a pre-emptive view of the fleeing form by the light of the moon.

If you don't believe the wide-awake merchants of Hopkinsville know a good thing when they see it, just look at the way they are turning themselves loose in our advertising columns as the holiday season approaches. Fortunately our facilities are now equal to any demand for space and we are prepared to give them all the room they want. If ten pages are not enough, we will add as many more as are needed. So if you have anything you want to sell, come and let the public know it.

ENTERPRISE—Greatest Advertising Enterprise in the history of Hopkinsville.

"THE GOLDEN GEMS OF LIFE,"

OR, "GATHERED JEWELS FOR THE HOME CIRCLE,"

now at the disposal of every family in Christian county, at the cost of the most influential business men of Hopkinsville. This work is intended for the home circle. It treats of life in its entirety, from youth to age, and aims steadily to point out blessings which a beneficent Providence has placed within the reach of all, but which are often hurried past by the careless and indifferent as things of no account. The authors have gathered from all possible sources the thoughts of those wise and earnest men and women who have used their pens to delineate life and its possibilities, its joys and its sorrows. It has the indorsement of public men, ministers and teachers everywhere. Over one-quarter of a million copies have found a welcome in the homes of our country. Over 250,000 people speak in its praise.

This Splendid Work is now at your disposal at no cost to You!

What is Said of It.

Dr. Howard Smith, former Auditor of Kentucky, says: It is a most valuable and interesting work. I commend it and its agents to the generous public.

Rev. J. S. Coleman, D. D., L. L. D., of Owensboro, says: I am struck forcibly with the wide range occupied by the work, with the good morals apparent upon the surface of every subject discussed, and with the strength of its diction and beauty of its literature and language, and recommended it as a work every way worthy of the patronage of the general reader, especially the young.

J. T. Patterson, President and Professor of Metaphysics and Bible Literature, Hamilton College, Lexington, Ky., says: The subjects treated of contain much that are highly instructive and that if read aright, be productive of good upon him or her who reads.

C. H. Payne, D. D., L. L. D., President of Ohio Wesleyan University, says: These jewels are the wise and priceless thoughts of many of the best writers relating to the great practical questions of life in its various relations and duties.

E. Dodge, D. D., L. L. D., President Madison University, Hamilton, N. Y., says: "The Golden Gems of Life" is a book for the family circle. The 'Gems' are short essays on the virtue of home life; on manhood and womanhood; on the formation of noble character; on the elements of success in public life; on manners and fashions; and on those moral and religious duties which good men of all denominations so gladly acknowledge. It is a treasure, full of truth and wisdom. I commend it to those who have homes to love, or families to care for.

Hon. S. D. Robertson, Superintendent of the Knoxville Tenn., City Schools, says: "The Golden Gems of Life" is an excellent work, and will be an addition to any library. It is a useful book to all classes and conditions of society."

D. W. Batson, A. M., President Kentucky Wesleyan College, says: "The subjects are of vital interest, the thoughts elevated, the language well selected. The influences of such a book can be only good."

Rev. J. B. J. McFerrin, D. D., Nashville, says: "It is an excellent book."

Rev. E. M. Cravath, President of Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn., says: "I gladly certify to the purity and elevation of thought expressed in the 'Gems.'"

Rev. R. Lin Cove, pastor Vine-street Christian church, Nashville, Tenn., says: "As good seed it should bring forth much good fruit. I am glad to have it in my library."

Rev. Jerry Witherspoon, pastor First Presbyterian Church, Nashville, Tenn., says: "It is decidedly elevating in tone and for the young provides wholesome reading."

Prof. J. I. D. Hinds, of the Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn., says: "I judge that it is an excellent book for the home circle. It is chaste in spirit and its style is good, and I do not hesitate to recommend it."

Rev. J. J. Potter, Editor Missionary Baptist, Tennessee, says: "Parents can't invest money to a greater advantage than to buy this book for their children. Young people will read something; if they can't get something that is good they will read something that is bad. Let the good book go into every home."
